NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa., Nov. 25, 2024 -- Talanton, a U.S.-based impact investment fund, proudly announces its latest investment in Auto Springs East Africa PLC (Auto Springs), a key player in the automotive parts manufacturing industry in East and Central Africa. This strategic partnership is set to enhance Auto Springs' operational capacity and advance its mission to become the market leader in locally engineered automotive parts by 2025.

Pinnacle of Operational Excellence

Auto Springs, established in 1979, is strategically located at the Limuru-Mai Mahiu Junction in Nairobi, Kenya. This prime location enables efficient logistics and distribution across Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Zambia.

Auto Springs manufactures a wide range of products, including leaf springs, bolts, nuts, and wiring harnesses for commercial vehicles and motorcycles. Through collaboration with South Africa's Supreme Springs, the company leverages cutting-edge technology and continuous improvement processes to maintain exceptional product quality. Auto Springs' certification to IATF 16949:2016 underscores its commitment to exceeding rigorous industry standards.

Commitment to Sustainability and Community Impact

Auto Springs actively supports the local economy and environmental sustainability by reducing reliance on imported automotive parts. Its locally manufactured products, specifically designed for the region's conditions, such as durable springs tailored for Kenyan roads, exemplify the company's focus on meeting local needs.

Talanton's investment will enable Auto Springs to expand its operations, creating significant job opportunities and driving economic growth. This aligns with Talanton's mission of generating sustainable impact by supporting values-driven enterprises.
